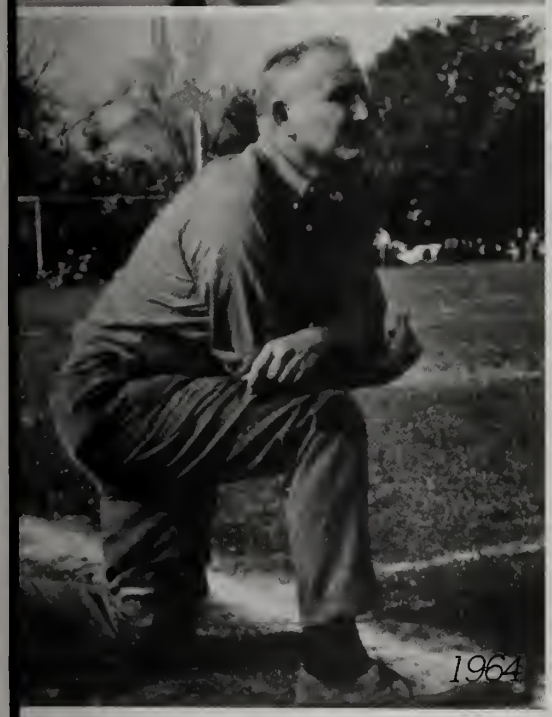
Dedication

As time requireth, a man of marvellous mirth and pastimes, and sometimes of as sad gravity, as who say: a man for all seasons.

Robert Whittington, 1521

1959

Gratitude for thirty-one years of service is not so easily or appropriately expressed in the confines of the printed page. We have collected a few words from centuries past and a few photographs from the past and present to commemorate a legend. But the real thanks exists in the hearts of all the people who have known Mr. C. Elliott Roundy in the last three decades. Here, epitomized, is love and respect.



1964

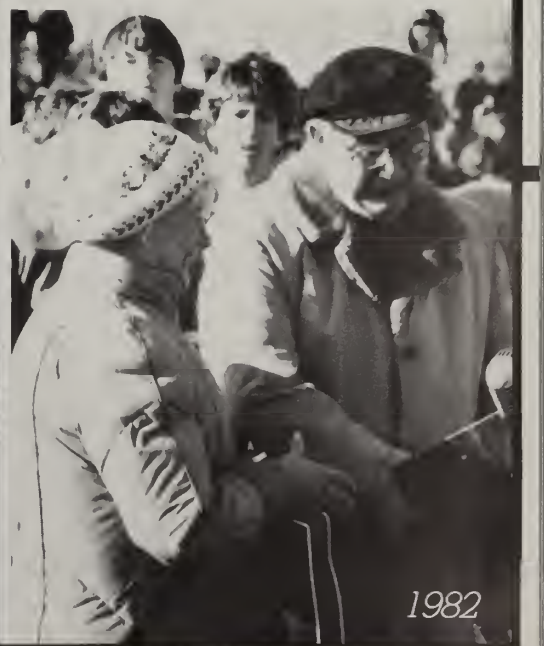
1979

1971



1982

A phenomenon of nature: the punk rocker. Unusual and unusually colored clothing and hair distinguish them in a crowd. Metal-spiked ankle collars, Devo or Elvis Costello glasses, and leopard-skin pants, shirts, boots and belts are among a few of the accessories indigenous to the breed.

José Felipé Auzmendi

José arrived in Ipswich on August 26, 1982 from Besain, Spain, a town about the size of Ipswich. Through the American Institute for Foreign Students, José was able to join the senior class. During his stay in Ipswich, he resided with Mrs. Cynthia Quinn, a math teacher here at Ipswich High, and her family.

This past fall, José was a member of the Ipswich High School soccer team and later he played on the tennis team at the Newburyport Racquet Club. Back in Spain, he lives with his parents and two younger brothers.

When he returns to Besain next June, there will surely be many happy memories that will go with him.

Mi Casa es su casa! Adios.

The once highly-esteemed soap opera General Hospital started the craze: doctor's clothing. Department stores all over the country started offering to us laymen those fashionable shirts that before were only available to the elite professionals. Although there is such a thing as doctor's pants, the doctor's shirts are by far the most popular. We added the tourniquet and syringe to convey medical realism and to show the state of the frustrated and overworked student at Ipswich High.

Fundamentals of Preppy Attire-
*Female

(1) cable-knit cardigan: first three buttons always undone; buttons knitted the same color as sweater
(2) oxford shirt: colar turned up; cuffs turned back over sweater
(3) Lacoste shirt (alligator shirt): comes in a variety of dazzling colors
(4) turtleneck jersey: collar never folded down Note: The four preceeding conventions form what is known in preppy circles as the "layered look."
(5) wool kilt: classis for winter holidays
(6) foul-weather shoes: essential rainwear or any other wear
(7) book bag: contents include a ring binder and a Glamour magazine
(8) class ring
(9) pierced earings: females only

* Male preps are basically the same except they wear khakis accompanied by a belt embroidered with anchors or other ocean-related insignia.

INDOOR TRACK

Although few at Ipswich High display their entire button collection on one peice of clothing, every once in a while you can catch students with one or two buttons pinned rather inconspicuously on their collars. Here they display their own musical and political preferences.

JAMES WATT, Secretary of the Interior, plans to sell 35 million acres of federal land(an area the size of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, and Massachusetts) to raise government funds. Environmentalists complain of faulty and haphazard management of our country's national lands.

GRACE KELLY: 1929-1982
Her Serene Highness dies at age 52 and is succeeded by her husband, Prince Rainier, her daughters Caroline and Stephanie, and her son Prince Albert.

JOHN DE LOREAN, master of the car-haven Detroit, gets caught in a cocaine ring he got himself caught up in.

PRINCESS DIANA has a child, William Arthur Philip Louis.

"MX STANDS FOR MISSILE EXPERIMENTAL, which hardly inspires confidence. So President Reagan let it be known he wanted to rename it. The National Security Council suggested Themis, for the Greek goddess of order and justice. Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger's choice was Guardian Missile. National Security Adviser William Clark proposed Peacemaker, after the Colt .45 that belonged to his grandfather and now hangs on a wall in his office. This caught the President's fancy, but White House aides pointed out that the name Peacemaker might violate a copyright or, even worse, be twisted into a pejorative; Pacemaker. Reagan finally compromised on Peacekeeper. Not that it mattered: at week's end everyone was still calling it the MX." - Time

TYLENOL laced with cyanide kills seven people in the Midwest. The murders aroused calls for safer packaging of drugs.

The June 12th ANTINUKE RALLY at New York's Central Park was the largest peace-time demonstration ever drawing an estimated 800,000 disarmament sympathizers from all over the country.

DEMOCRATS strengthened their control of the House in the last elections, gaining 26 seats and threatening Reagan's Republican hold.

OPEC slides while the price of oil and gas does the same. Americans revel in it. It seems OPEC's loss is our gain.

Congratulations To The Class Of 1983

WEST
LYNN

The Class of 1983 wishes a sincere thanks to all the patrons and advertisers who have so generously contributed to the success of this yearbook.

YEARBOOK STAFF

We first came together last spring . . . young, impressionable, naive . . . all the qualities necessary to willingly take the step into the world of cropping tools, type setting, and grease pencils. We didn't know any better then. We do now however and I expect that none of us will make the same mistake again . . .

Rick Merullo-Business Advisor "Greg and Maureen, have you got the ads and bills out?" R. Merullo

Barbara King-Yearbook Advisor Stern but sincere.

Business Staff:
Jamie McGinley, prize-winning ad seller; Maureen Whooley, bookkeeper; Heather Stevens, substantial seller of ads; Greg White, overseer; Other members: Sue May, Bill Linehan, Lynne Sullivan, Cassandra Drinkwater

Editors:
Carlene Barous and Suzannah Walker Both of secondary importance.

Advertising Layout:
Lisa Bouranis, Sue Gilbert and Louisa McGarty

Senior Section:
Shelia O'Brien and Mary Jane Paulitz Also: Nancy Walsh and Martha Bramley

Celebrities Section:
Vicki Fitzpatrick and Amy Roy "We fixed them all."

* Baba King

Faculty Section:
Jenny Chambers and Betsy Schreuer What happens when you team a zanny left-wing radical with a wild super-righ conservative . . .?

A personal thanks from the editors . . .

. . . to those who gave their own special contribution to the yearbook:

Glen Langille, Martha Bramley, Bridget Rogers, Jennifer Leamy- Artwork
